Commencement 1993

Melanie Beck becomes the Alumni Association's newest member.

Class Representative Ken Vander Horst.

100 Graduate in Largest Ceremony Yet

REDEEMER'S SEVENTH graduating class went out in style on May 29 in the largest commencement ceremony in the College's history. Family and friends filled the auditorium to witness the ceremony, which featured speeches by guest speaker Dr. Mariano Di Gangi and class representative Ken Vander Horst.

Di Gangi, who recently retired from the faculty of Ontario Theological Seminary and from the Pastorate of Knox Presbyterian Church in Toronto, entitled his address "Standard of Excellence," quoting from Micah 6:8b, "And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God." Di Gangi urged the graduates to look to these principles as their standard of excellence as they moved onward from Redeemer.

Class Representative Ken Vander Horst focused his address on the asterisk, a symbol which until recently distinguished Redeemer College from other universities listed in the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada (AUCC) registry. This symbol was also used during the 1993 winter semester for a student-organized tongue-in-cheek separatist movement. The distinction in the AUCC registry was

President's

It is more than an excuse to get together for coffee with ex-Redeemerites -- Your Alumni Board has been a very busy bunch over the last several months! We are pretty excited about some of the new things that we have been doing since Homecoming '92. Allow me to fill you in.

The mandate of the Board is to "foster mutually beneficial relationships amongst its members and the College." While this may seem to be a broad goal for the Alumni Association, the Board has been busy taking concrete steps to increase the profile of Redeemer College's Alumni.

This year, your Association will be sponsoring a new publication. Eikon will be an annual journal containing the written and visual work of Alumni. Many Canadian universities publish literary journals or interdisciplinary 'quarterlies.' Redeemer now adds a distinctive voice to that field of publishing.

This year's Alumni Association meeting will feature a lecture on the topic "Working is for Serving." We hope to address the issue of integrating a Reformed perspective in a post-modern workplace. We hope that you will join us at our annual meeting as we examine the new issues that face alumni.

Currently, a number of Alumni are serving on important committees: Helen Vreugdenhil sits on the Board of Governors and Heleen Wolfert serves as the Alumni Representative to the Academic Council. Also, as reported in the last issue of Images, Rev. De Bolster will be retiring from the president's office effective July 1, 1994. Sharon Timmerman and I have been working on the Presidential Search Committee to find a successor to Redeemer's first president.

There is much going on with the Alumni Association. Why not come down and take a look for yourself? Join us on Saturday, September 25 for the second Annual Membership Meeting of the Redeemer College Alumni Association. If you have any questions about the Association, please contact Tim Wolfert at the College, or ask any member of the Board. See you in September!

made because of Redeemer's requirement of a faith statement for entry. Vander Horst asserted that Redeemer students, alumni and supporters should be proud of the College's distinctiveness rather than be ashamed of it. Although Redeemer is working toward full accreditation, Vander Horst said, the College must not view its Bachelor of Christian Studies degree as a liability, but rather as a badge of honour, demonstrating the College's distinct Christian perspective. Vander Horst's remarks drew spontaneous applause from among the faculty.

Two awards, the Governor General's Silver Medal and the Redeemer College Faculty Award, were given during the ceremony. The Governor General's Silver Medal, awarded for study at the Bachelor's level, was given to Ron Oppertshauser, who graduated with the highest standing in his class. The Faculty Award, awarded on recommendation of the faculty to the graduand who exemplifies Christian leadership, academic excellence, and participation in College life, was granted to Grace Hoftyzer.

Additional presentations were made by Judy Heidbuurt and Jeremy Cooper, representatives of the graduating class. They spoke about the gift given to the college by the class of 1993, two mature trees which were planted near the main building.

The beautiful weather made an outdoor reception possible, so graduates, family, and friends stepped out into the front quad for photos, congratulations, refreshments, and, in some cases, goodbyes. The alumni association welcomes its newest members, and wishes them God's blessing in their pursuit of new goals.

Grace Hoftyzer receives the Faculty Award from Dr. Jacob Ellens.

Association Plans First Alumni Day

What does it mean to have a Reformed perspective in the workplace? What role does or should your Christianity play in your job? How do we take that which we have learned at Redeemer college and apply it in "the real world?" The Alumni Board of Directors invites you back to Redeemer College to explore these issues on Saturday, September 25 at 9:00 a.m. as part of a series of events for the Alumni Association.

Activities for the day include:

- The Second Annual Alumni Membership Meeting
- Address and discussion on the topic "Working is for Serving--Integrating Faith and Learning

"in the Workplace" led by former Redeemer professor Ed Plantinga.

- Lunch with alumni and faculty, including a reading by Prof. Hugh Cook
- Dr. Plantinga's booksale
- launch of the Alumni Annual Eikon
- soccer game featuring alumni vs. varsity*

The Board hopes that you will be able to join us in the first in what we hope will be an annual gathering of alumni to examine issues that relate directly to alumni.

*tentatively scheduled; if you would like to participate, (male or female), please contact the Alumni Affairs Coordinator.

Delightful!

Alumni Concert Short on Rehearsal, Long on Excellence

Gregory E. Sennema

The Redeemer College community was treated to a delightful evening of music with the premier performance of the Redeemer College Alumni Choir on June 8. Approximately 800 audience members enjoyed the show, which featured Stephanie VanRooyen (nee Proper, 92), Fred DeHaan (92), and conductor Chris Teeuwsen.

Alumni choir members from all over Ontario left busy schedules for a while to participate in the concert, the first of what is hoped to be an annual musical event. Although the choir was able to rehearse together on only five occasions, Teeuwsen was able to create a unified, blended sound from 35 unique and mature voices.

The Tuesday concert was preceded by a Sunday evening performance at the First Christian Reformed Church of Hamilton. In addition to giving the choir an opportunity to sing publicly for the first time, it allowed the members the enjoyment of singing in an acoustically excellent building.

The repertoire, which included works by Bach, Handel, and Dorsey, was not technically challenging for the chorus members to learn within such short notice. For future alumni concerts, however, Teeuwsen hopes to hold rehearsals at several times during the academic year, a move which will enable the choir to tackle more challenging pieces and will allow more alumni to make the scheduled rehearsals.

Introducing Eikon Alumni Association to Release Anthology

Lloyd Rang

The Redeemer College Alumni Association is pleased to announce the publication of the first issue of Eikon, a yearly collection of stories, art, essays and poems by the Alumni of Redeemer College.

The name Eikon is Greek for "the image of God". As we continue our walk of faith with Christ, the former students of Redeemer College will adapt what we have learned as students to our jobs, families, and church activities. With Eikon, we hope to record the thoughts and insights of a dynamic Christian community.

The deadline for submissions is fast approaching. If you have any material to submit, please send it to the Alumni Affairs Coordinator at the College before September 1. Written material should be no more than 10 pages long, preferably on diskette in WordPerfect or ASCII format.

Copies of Eikon will be available at the Alumni Association Annual Meeting on September 25, 1993. If you would like to order a copy, please contact the Alumni Office at the College.

AGENDA for the SECOND ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING of the REDEEMER COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Saturday, September 25, 1993,
11:30 am, Executive Dining
Lounge, Redeemer College

- 1) Welcome and Opening
- 2) Report of the Alumni Representative on the Board of Governors
- 3) Report of the Alumni Representative on Academic Council
- 4) Election of new Alumni Board Members

- 5) Report of the President of the Alumni Board
  - 6) Open Forum on the Direction of the Alumni Board and Association
  - 7) Introduction of the Alumni publication Eikon
  - 8) Miscellaneous
- The Board encourages all members of the Alumni Association to attend the meeting. The mandate of the Association, to foster mutually beneficial relationships amongst the members and the College, needs your input to be meaningful. Tell us what you think of the Alumni Association and Board, what you like, and what you don't like. And most importantly, tell us what you think we should do to better meet the needs of alumni. If you cannot attend the meeting, but you still want to have your say, please send your comments to the Alumni Board. It's your Association!

Association to Elect New Board Members

Over the past year, Jennifer Brink and Colin Vanderploeg have resigned from the Alumni Board in order to pursue their studies. Also, Don Stelpstra and Willard Vanderploeg, the last two members of the founding Board of Directors, have seen their terms of service finally come to an end. The Board and the Association will miss their input and service. In order to fill their spots, the Board offers the following names for nomination to the Board of Directors. The terms are for three years, after which they may serve a second three-year term.

Elections will be held at the Annual Membership Meeting of the Alumni Association on Saturday, Sept. 25. If you are unable to attend the meeting and would still like to vote, please sign the ballot and send it to:
